Ministry Defined

The Graduate Theological Foundation defines ministry as “service to the improvement and nurture of society and the world community.” Due to the blurred lines between the sacred and secular in contemporary society, ministry professionals are continually crafting their role and the nature of their work, a process which takes into account both personal values-based service and public responsibility. Practitioners involved in ministry are self-reflectively aware of the nurturing quality of that activity, and are found in such fields as education, pastoral care and counseling, chaplaincy, mediation, psychology, health care and counseling, sacred music, religious education and other cognate fields.

Study Options

Visit the GTF website for more details on study options.

Affiliations

The GTF enjoys affiliations with the Oxford University Department for Continuing Education, the Centro Pro Unione in Rome and several P.R.I.M.E. programs. The P.R.I.M.E. affiliation allows students to earn their degree from the GTF by completing most or all required coursework through a designated P.R.I.M.E. institution.

Online courses

Online courses use email as the main mechanism for communication between the student and the GTF faculty. Each course is taught as a one-on-one tutorial between the student and the faculty person offering the course. This curriculum is offered exclusively by our own faculty. The faculty evaluation of student performance will be linked to the degree level of the student. Each online course fulfills one Unit of Study.

Individualized Tutorials

This course format is designed to allow students to pursue an individually directed topic of study, initiated by the student in the form of a tutorial topic proposal. Each tutorial is valued at one Unit of Study.

Independent Study

Any student in any degree program has the right to propose an Independent Study course of his/her own creation. Unlike the Tutorial course wherein the student identifies the tutor and topic, the Independent Study course provides the student with the opportunity to develop the topic of investigation without the necessity of a tutor. The innovative student constructs a plan of study built around pre-established readings selected by the student rather than by a tutor. The Independent Study fulfills one Unit of Study.

Students may only take two of the Individualized tutorials or Independent Study courses as a part of their program of study.

Residential Institutes

The Graduate Theological Foundation periodically provides the opportunity for students to engage in on-site intensive weeks of study through attendance at a GTF Institute. These institutes are offered at varied times throughout the year and cover a variety of topics relevant to ministry professionals. Each Institute runs for five days (Monday-Friday) on a specific theme consisting of two separate seminars, morning and afternoon.

To fulfill the requirements of our residential courses, students will be asked to read the required texts before coming to the residential course, attend and participate in each seminar and write a 12-15-page paper that is due 90 days after the course. Completing these requirements will provide the student with 6 credits of study, equal to 2 online courses.

Description

The Master of Tribunal Studies in Canon Law degree is designed for already practicing volunteer or credentialed chancery and tribunal personnel (lay, religious, ordained, or civil lawyers) who wish to foster self-improvement and motivation in the pursuit of canonical education as an end in itself or in preparation for doctoral studies. Graduate-level work involves an understanding of doctrine and the formation of skills needed for the various tribunal departments, and preparation for the Master of Tribunal Studies thesis.

(Note: Because the M.Tr.S. requires a thesis rather than a project, it is considered an academic rather than a professional degree.)

The thesis (written under the supervision of a faculty member of the GTF in canon law in the Tribunal Studies program) is to be 35,000 to 40,000 words in length (not including bibliography) and is shaped as a written work of case-based applied research in the field of canon law.

Tribunal Studies Practicum

The Practicum is based on case studies and is a five-day experience. The student will participate individually or in a small group of five to ten students (when enrollment exists) or the student will engage one-on-one in a practicum with a Tribunal Studies faculty person in an online format for the five days. There is no fee for this Practicum, but the student is responsible for room and board costs. Hosted by Tribunal Studies faculty, the dates are arranged for the convenience of both students and faculty.

Membership in the North American Imams Federation is a requirement.

See the website for the English/Arabic Curriculum of the GTF.

Supervision and Master Thesis Process

Selection of Faculty Thesis Supervisor and Nomination Procedure

Students will be assigned a faculty member of the GTF faculty to serve as Thesis Supervisor. This enables the student to receive helpful and pragmatic evaluative feedback from a member of the faculty in the developmental process of producing the master's thesis. The role of the Thesis Supervisor is responsive and suggestive. The faculty person is encouraged to limit feedback to pragmatically helpful hints and suggestions and not to attempt any censorship of the thesis. The exercise of discretion with respect to time demands is very important for both the student and faculty member. The Thesis Supervisor must give final approval of the student's work by submitting the Thesis Supervisor Report Form.

- The student completes the online Thesis Supervisor Nomination Form.
- Academic Affairs informs the student and faculty member of relationship approval and contact information is provided

Master's Thesis

After completing all coursework, a candidate undertakes the writing of a master's thesis of 35,000-40,000 words (not including bibliography) which is clearly a work of applied scholarship making a contribution to tribunal studies. The master's thesis must include a table of contents and bibliography of a minimum of 20 sources, with annotations for the 10-12 key sources. The thesis must be written in 12 point Times New Roman (or comparable) font, double-spaced and with the appropriate table of contents and bibliography.

The thesis is shaped as a written work of case-based applied research with a demonstrated familiarity with the appropriate scholarly and professional literature. It should be noted that the written form of the thesis is to be in the style of an actual scholarly paper which may be considered suitable for publication. When the thesis in its final form has been reviewed and approved by the student's Thesis Supervisor, it must be submitted, electronically, to the Office of the Registrar for forwarding to the Thesis Evaluation Committee for final review.

Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.)

Description

Increasingly in the professional practice of counseling, the Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) is becoming the credential of preference. This emerging emphasis has come about owing to the value and importance of praxis or clinical practical experience placed upon the participant within the degree program. Rather than being a research-oriented degree such as the Ph.D. which is commonly thought of as the required teaching credential, the Psy.D. places fundamental emphasis upon skills training and practical clinical experience within the counseling setting. The Graduate Theological Foundation enters this field owing to the large number of clergy and ministry professionals who have come to seek the Psy.D. because they prefer an educational environment more responsive to their faith awareness needs than is typically exemplified in the secular professional schools of psychology and state university graduate departments.

The Psy.D. requires the academic study of psychology and its clinical practical application to the counseling situation, as well as the role of the ministry professional as representative of the faith community within the counseling setting. By combining academic training and pastoral awareness, the Psy.D. program offers a unique opportunity for ministry professionals. Individuals must comply with the licensure and/or board certification requirements of the state in which they intend to be engaged in professional counseling. The Psy.D. places fundamental emphasis upon skills training and practical clinical experience within the counseling setting.

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.)

Students in the Ph.D. degree program may choose from a variety of degree concentrations or may request to pursue a concentration relevant to their specific interests. Certain Ph.D. concentrations require the completion of a specific curriculum. (Please see the website, and below, for details.)

Description

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is the universally accepted terminal academic degree. The degree taken through the GTF allows students to specialize in several fields, including Islam, Judaism, psychology, biblical studies, historical studies, and theological studies. The GTF's program seeks to address concerns in the context of overarching perspectives. Specialties are removed from potential isolation and located in the large-scale dynamics of religious traditions and their ministries. Candidates for GTF degree thus seek a two-fold academic identification: as specialists in various fields and as those who undertake to relate such fields to the multiple dimensions of religion, religious experience, and religious traditions.

Time Frame and Tuition

This degree is a 36-42 credit program (depending on program) that may be completed in no less than two years and no more than four years.

Total Program Cost amounts include all required courses if taken through the GTF. The acceptance of transfer credit will decrease total program cost.

A.B.D. Doctor of Philosophy Degree Completion Program (Ph.D.)

Description

The GTF has developed an accelerated completion program designed specifically for those individuals who have reached the All But Dissertation (A.B.D.) level at a graduate school of an accredited seminary or university. All But Dissertation (A.B.D.) indicates incompleteness. According to statistical reports of the various state and government agencies monitoring higher education in the United States, there is an inordinately high percentage of individuals who fail to complete their Ph.D. work after having successfully sustained the doctoral qualifying examinations, completed language requirements, and fulfilled residency coursework. The phenomenon is particularly and disturbingly high in the cognate fields of theology and religious studies. The A.B.D. Doctor of Philosophy degree completion program of the GTF is an attempt to address this issue.

Time Frame and Tuition

The degree may be completed in no less than twelve months and no more than three years.

Total Program Cost $15,180

See the Policies section for complete information.

Admission Requirements

The program is built around the integrity of the graduate work completed up to, but not including, the successful defense of the dissertation. Any A.B.D. applicant must meet the following criteria in order to be accepted into the program and defined as a Ph.D. candidate:

1. Appropriate undergraduate and graduate degrees which allow for the pursuit of doctoral work
2. Completion of all residency requirements for the Ph.D. at a graduate school of religious studies, seminary, or university (verified by transcript)
3. Fulfillment of language requirements, if applicable, in compliance with the degree being pursued
4. Passing of any and all Ph.D. qualifying examinations in preparation for the writing of the thesis
5. Demonstration of good standing at previous A.B.D. institution
6. In addition to the application and supporting documents listed on our website, applicants will need to provide a 3-5 page academic writing sample.

Program Requirements

1. Completion of the non-credit course, Research Methodology. This course is a prerequisite to beginning the doctoral thesis.
2. Submission and approval of thesis proposal.
3. Completion and Submission of an electronic copy of a doctoral thesis of 45,000-60,000 words (not including bibliography) and required forms (abstract, personal biography, cover sheet) to the GTF office.

Successful defense of the thesis by written disputation.

Please see website for complete degree description

Thesis and Defense Process Information

Research Methodology

The student will complete the non-credit Research Methodology course. The culmination of this course is the Thesis Proposal.

Thesis Proposal

The student will submit a thesis proposal to the GTF. This will be the first working document generated from the relationship between the student and the Thesis Supervisor. The proposal will include a brief description of the proposed thesis, a working title and a brief bibliography.

Language Requirement

In instances where the doctoral thesis topic requires competency in one or more languages (e.g., Latin) as determined by the Thesis Supervisor, the student must produce either a transcript of two academic semesters of language courses or some other means of demonstrated competency to the satisfaction of the Thesis Supervisor and the Office of Academic Affairs.

Thesis

After completing all coursework, the student undertakes the writing of a doctoral thesis of 40,000-60,000 words (not including bibliography). The thesis must be written in 12 point Times New Roman (or comparable) font, double-spaced and with the appropriate table of contents and bibliography.

When the thesis in its final form has been reviewed and approved by the student's Thesis Supervisor, it must be submitted to the GTF for final review. The thesis, abstract, cover sheet and biographical statement must be submitted by email to the Office of the Registrar a minimum of three months prior to the intended date of oral defense.

The thesis is shaped as a written work of case-based applied research with a demonstrated familiarity with the appropriate scholarly and professional literature. It should be noted that the written form of the thesis is to be in the style of an actual scholarly paper suitable for publication.

Thesis Style Statement

There are several internationally recognized dissertation styles acceptable in the academic community. In light of the fact that the GTF has a rather large international student body, the GTF has not adopted a single style form acceptable for thesis writing. The GTF will, rather, accept any of the internationally recognized styles, given that the student consistently employs the same style throughout the writing of the thesis. Those most commonly used but not required include Turabian, MLA, APA, as well as others known and recognized universally.

Faculty Thesis Supervisor Procedure

Students will be assigned a member of the GTF faculty to serve as Thesis Supervisor. This enables the student to receive helpful and pragmatic evaluative feedback from a member of the faculty in the developmental process of producing the doctoral thesis. The role of the faculty Thesis Supervisor is responsive and suggestive. The faculty person is encouraged to limit feedback to pragmatically helpful hints and suggestions and not to attempt any censorship of the thesis. The exercise of discretion with respect to time demands is very important for both the student and faculty member. The faculty Thesis Supervisor must give final approval of the student's work by submitting the Thesis Supervisor Report Form.

Academic Doctoral Committee

Every student admitted into an academic doctoral program, either the Ph.D. or the Th.D., will be assigned a Doctoral Committee prior to the scheduling of the doctoral defense. The members of the committee are as follows

- Thesis Supervisor
- One Defense Panel member
- Defense Chair

These ~~four~~ three individuals are not asked to agree with the observations or conclusions drawn by the doctoral candidate in the thesis, but the committee must finally concur that the thesis is worthy of scholarly recognition based on traditional standards of scholarship, research and presentation.

To read a full description of the Academic Doctoral Committee, members, roles, procedures, etc., please visit the website.

Defense by Written Disputation

The doctoral student will be invited to contact our offices to schedule a doctoral defense after all financial obligations and academic requirements have been met, and once the following have been received by our offices:

- Thesis Proposal
- Thesis Cover Sheet
- Abstract and Biographical Statement
- Thesis Supervisor Report
- One electronic copy of the thesis (PDF or MS Word format) sent to the Office of the Registrar

The GTF offers a modified version of the Roman tradition known as disputations, i.e., a roster of faculty-constructed questions to which the doctoral defendant must reply.

Written disputations allow the doctoral student to respond more formally and thoughtfully to faculty questions over a period of time. Additionally, this format allows the student to avoid the expense of travel required for an on-site oral defense.

Evaluation of the student thesis will occur within 90 days from submission of the thesis and all required documents and fees. Members of the Doctoral Committee will formulate and submit to the doctoral student a list of five formal questions to which the student must respond in writing by email within two weeks. The student responses will be reviewed by faculty within approximately two weeks. Upon review and acceptance of the written disputations, the doctoral student will be informed by email of his/her eligibility for graduation.

The doctoral defense will be scheduled no sooner than 90 days from the date that all above mentioned requirements are met and no longer than 180 days from the date of final submission of all paperwork.

Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy

(meaning-oriented approach to pastoral care & counseling, inclusive of spirituality, ecumenically applicable)

Description

Though there are numerous training centers around the world for those interested in Viktor Frankl's Logotherapy, there is no graduate-level institution focused specifically upon the pastoral character of the theory and practice of logotherapy. The GTF has established the Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy to address this need. The Center offers three degrees in Pastoral Logotherapy with specific training in the theory and practice of logotherapy for ministry professionals working as practitioners in pastoral care and counseling. The Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy of the Graduate Theological Foundation is an accredited Member of the International Association of Logotherapy and Existential Analysis at the Viktor Frankl Institute Vienna.

Director of the Graduate Center

Rev. Jeremiah N. Murasso, Ph.D., Psy.D., Ed.D.

Diplomate of the Viktor Frankl Institute of Logotherapy

Robert C. Leslie Professor of Pastoral Logotherapy

Accreditation

The Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy is an accredited Member of the International Association of Logotherapy and Existential Analysis at the Viktor Frankl Institute in Vienna, Austria.

As an accredited member institute, students who complete their degree work through the Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy at the GTF are qualified to become accredited individual members of the International Association. Students completing work through the Center should be aware that they may enjoy the opportunity to be listed in an international directory of logotherapists active in the various branches of helping and counseling professions that is currently being built by the Viktor Frankl Institute. Other professionals applying logotherapy in their respective fields may also enjoy this opportunity, including ministers, pastoral psychologists, Registered Nurses, coaches, etc. As a member institute, the Graduate Center for Pastoral Logotherapy at the GTF enjoys various benefits, including entry in the institute directory, help with local initiatives, and more. The GTF's accreditation certificate may be viewed on the website.

Degree Programs

Three doctoral degree programs are offered by the GTF in Pastoral Logotherapy. The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) and the Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) are both professional doctorates concentrating upon the praxis nature of logotherapy as relates to pastoral care and ministry. The D.Min. and Psy.D. degree requirements include a specified number of Units of Study, and attendance at the Practicum in Pastoral Logotherapy. The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.), an academic doctorate, combines the praxis elements of both the D.Min. and the Psy.D. with the requirement of a research-based thesis, which is written under faculty supervision and defended orally by the student before a panel of faculty. The Ph.D. requires a specified number of Units of Study, including a Research Methods course, attendance at the Practicum in Pastoral Logotherapy and the writing and defense of a doctoral thesis.

Through our institutional relationship with the Viktor Frankl Institute of Logotherapy, students may use work completed at that institution as transfer credit to fulfill partial academic requirements of a degree in Pastoral Logotherapy. Students must submit an official transcript or certificates of completion in order to have coursework assessed for credit.

Doctor of Ministry

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) degree requires a total of eight Units of Study. Five Units of Study are specified in the Pastoral Logotherapy core curriculum, while the three additional Units of Study are chosen from the course offerings by the GTF faculty in Pastoral Care and Counseling Psychology. This degree program culminates in attendance at the Practicum in Pastoral Logotherapy.

Doctor of Psychology

The Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) degree requires a total of ten Units of Study. Five Units of Study are specified in the Pastoral Logotherapy core curriculum, while the five additional Units of Study are chosen from the course offerings by the GTF faculty in Pastoral Care and Counseling Psychology. Affiliations

Oxford University

Department for Continuing Education (OUDCE)

Formalized in 1994, this institutional affiliation with Oxford University allows students at the GTF the opportunity to complete part or all of their graduate studies during the Theology Summer School of the OUDCE hosted at Christ Church College, Oxford, one of the 37 colleges that make up the University of Oxford.

Centro Pro Unione, Rome

For the past two decades, the GTF has enjoyed an affiliation with the Centro Pro Unione in Rome, an ecumenical institution engaged in education. The Centro is also the ecumenical repository of all documents generated by the Vatican and the World Council of Churches. The Rev. Fr. James Puglisis, SA, is Director of the Centro Pro Unione. He is also Minister General of the Franciscan Friars of Atonement and teaches at the Angelicum. At the GTF, he is Cardinal Spellman Professor of Catholic Theology.

P.R.I.M.E.

(Partnering Resources in Ministry Education)

This special type of affiliation allows students to earn their degree from the GTF by completing the majority of required coursework through a P.R.I.M.E. affiliate. Institutions designated as “P.R.I.M.E.” provide training programs that can be applied toward specializations in specific graduate degree programs. The following institutions and organizations have been invited to participate in the P.R.I.M.E. program. They have been selected on the strength of their educational programs and quality of training faculty. To this distinguished roster of P.R.I.M.E. institutions, other institutions and programs are periodically added based on the ongoing assessment of educational training opportunities relevant to our students.

The uniqueness of the P.R.I.M.E. affiliation is two-fold: Students may do all of their residency and degree requirements at any one of the P.R.I.M.E. affiliated institutions, and those institutions have the advantage, by virtue of their affiliation with the GTF, of offering their training for the GTF’s degree programs in their own facilities. More information on P.R.I.M.E. programs is available on the GTF website.

The student will be subject to the tuition rates, fees, program guidelines and policies of the Student Handbook that is current at the time of transfer/reactivation. Previously completed coursework will be re-evaluated for applicability to the new degree program.

Documented Use of Sources

Students are held to a high standard of performance at the GTF in the writing of their papers for course requirements. This high standard places the burden of responsibility and accountability upon the student to demonstrate competency in the literature and a capacity to bring critical analysis to the work in hand. If a student has disregarded protocol with respect to primary sources as relates to acceptable documented citations with relevant references, the evaluating faculty has the discretion of returning the work to the student for reworking. No charge of intentional deception is implied in the returning of such work but the student must accept the decision of the evaluating faculty and in turn must resubmit the reworked document for final approval. Failure on the part of the student to rework the document to the evaluating faculty's satisfaction will result in failure to earn credit for the work in hand. Any student wishing to challenge the decision of the evaluating faculty must submit a letter with a detailed explanation of the student's position to the Academic Affairs Committee. Rulings by the AAC are final.

Transcripts

The Office of the Registrar maintains all records. Alumni and current students of the GTF should, when requesting a transcript, identify themselves by name, degree program and year of graduation. All requests for transcripts must be received in writing.

The cost of having a hardcopy transcript generated by the Registrar's Office is $20.00 per copy. The GTF will issue unofficial transcripts electronically which are free of charge. No transcript will be issued to third parties without prior written request from the student and payment at the time of request.

Graduation and Diplomas

When all academic and financial requirements have been met by the respective deadlines, the student is eligible to receive his/her diploma. Diplomas will be mailed to graduates upon conferral of their degree. These mailings occur four times a year. GTF diplomas reflect the degree earned. Degree concentrations are listed on the student transcript.

Students needing verification of completion of degree requirements prior to receiving the diploma may request an official transcript by following the transcript request procedure on the GTF website.

Credentials and Titles

Credentials and titles (i.e., Dr.) may only be claimed and used after all academic and financial requirements of a degree program have been met. The premature use of a title and degree owing to a failure to fulfill either academic requirements or financial obligations may result in legal charges brought against the student by the institution or members of the general public.

Students of the GTF may legally claim the degree earned as well as the corresponding title associated with that degree under the following circumstances.

- Th.D. and Ph.D. students, for whom a doctoral oral defense is required, may begin to claim the degree as well as the title of Doctor immediately following their successful doctoral oral defense.
- All other degree students may claim their degree upon receipt of a letter from the Office of the Provost formally acknowledging their degree completion.

Counseling Credentials

Individuals must comply with the licensure and/or board certification requirements of the state in which they intend to be engaged in professional counseling.

Accreditation

The Graduate Theological Foundation is an ecumenical and interreligious non-profit educational foundation chartered by the State of Indiana. This charter provides that the GTF may offer programs and grant degrees in areas of ministry. The GTF also engages in the sponsorship of research, publishing of monographs and awarding of grants and fellowships.

Accrediting agencies such as the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) and the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCACS) do not have a mechanism in place for the evaluation of the educational model of the GTF. The GTF is exempt from the jurisdiction of NCACS and ATS based on the following unique and innovative characteristics of this institution:

1. The GTF is ecumenical and interreligious in program offerings, student body and institutional philosophy and mission. The GTF does not embrace a doctrinal faith statement that would require exclusion of certain faith communities.
2. The GTF utilizes an online research library and holds a growing physical library at the GTF Sarasota offices.
3. The GTF retains U.S.-based and international contract faculty rather than employing residential faculty.

The Graduate Theological Foundation asserts that the academic integrity of an institution can be measured by the credentials of its faculty, the affiliations it holds, and the academic and professional accomplishments of its students and alumni. Information on each of these areas may be found by visiting the following pages:

- Faculty
- Alumni Employment Record
- Alumni and Faculty Publications
- Alumni Careers
- Affiliations
- GTF affiliations with Oxford University and The Centro Pro Unione in Rome
- Online Thesis Library

The GTF has been recognized by the Department of Veterans Affairs as offering a Doctor of Ministry degree which meets the education requirements for employment as a chaplain in the Dept. for Veterans Affairs.

For additional information on accreditation, you can click on the following link which will take you to the U.S. Department of Education's accreditation statement. A quote from this page regarding the Database of Accredited Programs and Institutions is as follows, "The database does not include a number of postsecondary educational institutions and programs that elect not to seek accreditation but nevertheless may provide a quality postsecondary education. The U.S. Department of Education recommends that the database be used as one source of qualitative information and that additional sources of qualitative information be consulted."

The State of Indiana and Contract Disclaimer

This Student Handbook is for general information and does not constitute a contract between this institution and the student. The application and interpretation of this Student Handbook is governed by the laws of the State of Indiana affecting the relationship between the institution and the student.

Code of Conduct

Any student conducting himself/herself in such a manner as to cast disparagement or embarrassment upon the GTF is subject to disciplinary action by the Academic Affairs Committee which may result in censorship, suspension, or expulsion from this institution's courses, activities and programs.

Disciplinary and Grievance Procedures

In the event that the Academic Affairs Committee of the institution determines that disciplinary action must be taken against any student, notification of the intended action, the reason why, and its consequences are to be put in writing to the student. The student may appeal the AAC's decision by submitting a letter to the AAC responding to the charges with copies of the letter to the President and Provost. The student may be asked to appear for a hearing before the AAC to answer to the charges and may, at his/her personal discretion, request that the student's Project Consultant, Thesis Supervisor, or a personally chosen member of the faculty to be present at that hearing.

The final decision with regard to the intended action of the AAC must be made by a unanimous vote of the Academic Affairs Committee, the President, the Provost, and where present, the student's representative (Project Consultant, Thesis Supervisor, or Faculty representative). Students may also file a grievance against the GTF by submitting a letter to the Academic Affairs Committee stating specifically the nature of the grievance. By invitation, the AAC may ask the student to appear before it in an attempt to reach a mutually agreed resolution. Failure to reach a resolution will precipitate a further meeting between the student, the AAC, the President, the Provost (or their representatives), and a student-selected member of the faculty. Failure to reach a resolution at such a meeting will necessitate legal consultation with the student and the institution selecting its own lawyers and initiating action as such legal counsel dictates.
